GORHAM NORMAL STUDENTS HEAR TALKS ON INDIA

REV. AND MRS. MOULTON TELL ABOUT INDIAN MISSIONARY WORK AND OF GHANDI

Reverend and Mrs. Joseph H. Moulton addressed the student body at Chapel exercises, Tuesday morning. The Moultons have been in the missionary service in India for 12 years having been located at Rahuri for 10 years. They are home now for their second furlough in twelve years. Mrs. Moulton told of teaching women of the untouchable caste and also women of the upper castes. Mr. Moulton told of the political situation in India. He spoke of Mahatma Ghandi and told of visiting him in a third class carriage at four o'clock in the morning. He spoke of Mr. Ghandi's good nature under circumstances which would have tried any European. "Mr. Ghandi is living 50 years ahead of his time," said Mr. Moulton in speaking of the work which Ghandi has done in doing away with the untouchable caste. "His simplicity endears him to all the people of India," said Mr. Moulton, "the poor people eat little, Ghandi eats little; the poor people have little to wear, Ghandi wears little clothing; they have little money, Ghandi has little money." He also told of Ghandi's recent fast and the reasons which prompted him to do it. "The first thing that Ghandi did when there was no longer any reason for prolonging the fast," said Mr. Moulton, "before he even drank some orange juice, he said, 'Let us bow our heads in prayer.' Since Ghandi was so weak to lead the prayer, Rabindranath Tagore, India's famous poet, led in his stead. At the feet of the emaciated, homely Ghandi were representatives from all castes, educated and uneducated alike, who had come to be near this man who was living so far ahead of his time. Although Ghandi terms himself a Hindu, he believes in and prays to the same God that we do."

In closing Mr. Moulton said, "India and her problems have been on the front page of the newspapers before they will become increasingly prominent in the coming years. Imagine a country as large as the United States, with a population three times that of the whole United States and you have a fair idea of the size and population of India." Mr. Moulton expressed the belief that although the changes in India would be made slowly they are inevitable and will come about as the result of educated and thinking men who will effect a social and political revolution by non-violent methods such as Mahatma Ghandi advocates. TWO-MINUTE SERMON

by REV. GEORGE HENRI

HOPE VS. DESPAIR

When I was a very young man I had an experience that might have resulted disastrously. I roomed with a fellow who was a great admirer of Lagerfeldt et al. With wide open mouth he boasted an open mind, but his search was not for truth so much as for something to confirm in his unbelief. His reading was all on one side of the question. He refused to admit there were two sides. Fortunately I came across a sentence that I have never forgotten, "Let me cry hope, though I myself despair." Why give voice to thoughts that are destructive of faith? What gain you to drag some other down? Why not keep silent when you have no helpful, inspiring word to speak? I read the books and listened to the arguments of my friend but I could find no satisfaction in his conclusions and still less an excuse for teaching them. As seriously as I considered one side I now considered the other, and I am convinced that our faith and hope as Christians is well founded and well worth advocating.

WILLIAM C. LEAVITT

After an illness of only a few minutes, William C. Leavitt died in Norway very suddenly a little before noon Thursday. It was known that he had a heart trouble, but the end came without preliminary warning. He had been at his store every day.

Mr. Leavitt was a prominent business man of Norway, and had been in business for a longer time than any other man now in business there.

Mr. Leavitt was born in Martine, Calif., 78 years ago. His parents died when he was eleven years of age, and the Free Masons sent him back to his people in New Hampshire, his father's native state. He began his work in a shoe store at 16, where he was taught the trade. Five years later he came to Norway. In 1885 he entered business on his own behalf. Up to the time of his death he has occupied his present business location since 1888.

He was a member of all the Masonic bodies of Oxford (Chapter, O. E. S., and Norway Lodge, I. O. O. F.). He was a trustee of Norway Public Library, a position he has held for some time. He was twice married. His first wife was Fannie Clark. Two sons and two daughters were born to them, all of whom survive. Eleven years after his first wife died he married Miss Mabel Keizer of Colebrook, N. H. Mr. Leavitt attended the Universalist church. Those surviving are the widow, two sons, George and William, two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Hutchins and Mrs. Harry E. Crockett, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral was held at the home on Orchard Street Sunday afternoon in charge of Oxford Lodge, F. and A. M., with Rev. Mervin M. Deane of Baltimore, Md., and Rev. Emard B. Rhodner of Norway officiating. Burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Oxford, Maine.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

L. A. Edwards, Pastor

9:30 Church School Mrs. Ida Packard, Superintendent

11:00 Morning Worship. Sermon by the pastor, "Stewardship."

Roger W. Hanson says that "the Church is an economic unit." Others may regard it as something that has a distinct social value; they would not care to make their home in a church community; while still others think of it as a kind of spiritual policeman that safeguards their life and property.

With all these positions we find ourselves in perfect agreement; but the Church is "infinitely more than that. It is a 'city of refuge'." It is a guidepost on the wayward; it is a watchtower. It is a spiritual laboratory; it is the house of God. Shall we acknowledge our stewardship of this divine institution?

On Sunday afternoon some of these stewards who are not only giving of their money will also give of their time that it may be carried on. Please plan to be at home when they call.

6:30 The comrades of the way will entertain the Gethsemane Chapter. Every comrade should arrange to be present.

THE FINGER POINTS In and Around Bethel

Gordon E. Lathrop

Play Safe!

The week end cold snap covered the smaller ponds and streams with ice and encouraged the skating urge in our younger generation. The first cold snap is really warmer than it feels. Because it is so cold ice forms does not mean that the ice gets very thick. It is wiser if the kids must go skating, to make sure they skate in the shallow places. Then if the ice breaks through there will be no drowning to mourn.

The Bounty on Bear and Porcupine

It is rumored that the State is to remove the bounty on bear and porcupine as a measure of economy. A rather small economy, it is true, but it may save the heads of a few political appointees. The idea of paying a bounty for hunting is, in a measure, commercializing sport. Porcupines are used for target practice by most hunters, anyway. Traveling through the woods you will run across several that have been shot or clubbed and left to rot with feet and nose intact. The bear is perhaps the biggest and most exciting game to hunt left in the Maine woods. Removing the bounty on them may encourage their hunting by sportsmen in general, rather than by the few who make a profession of it at present.

Henyards and Barns

It is easy to write a column like this. So many people want to help you get into trouble! For some little time we have been urged to write about a certain hen-yard in the village center that puckers up the olfactory nerves of those who live in the direction the wind is blowing to. There is also a herd of cows that smells not so sweet, and a barn or two that would stand sterilization. But really, what's the use of publicizing them? It doesn't help the odor any. But because we appreciate the assistance in filling this column we are going to recommend a town ordinance that will incorporate two recommendations. The first is that all hens in the Bethel corporation be powdered with a sweet-smelling talcum powder. The second is that a cheap perfume be purchased by the barrel and each cow or horse be seated in a tub of it at least once a day. Then each wind that blows would carry a mixture of the two and our village smell like a cheap dance hall instead of a healthy rural community.

The Beginning of the End!

Bethel's community skating rink has this year been moved into the bushes at the upper end of the common. Last year it covered an area of 80 x 100 feet, this year it has been reduced to 80 x 30 feet, next year you may be expected to skate in the trough around the fountain, and the year after that you probably will be invited to gamble with drowning down on the old mill pond. Of course, since $200 was sufficient to keep up 12500 sq. feet of ice last year the town may reasonably expect to have about $90 refunded, due to the 3500 square feet of ice they save the care of this season. Two reasons are given for the change in location. (None for the change in size.) One is that the common is more level at the upper end. Now the common needing grading up, why didn't someone last spring think of this way to solve the problem of a town dump?

If everyone had dumped their fancy ashes, tin cans, bottles, etc. on the lower end of the common it would have grown a more healthy looking crop of pig-weed than decorated that surface all summer, and now being graded off, would have surely been enough to make the whole common level. The second reason is given as being to keep the lower path open to Mill Hill. What a sudden urge to call public convenience on the part of the powers that be! The fact is that over half the Mill Hillers walk around the common anyhow. And moving the skating rink up toward the Inn cuts off a path to its front door that probably is used just as much in the winter time. The truth of the matter appears to be that there are certain lovers of pig-weed who want the common used for nothing else. The ever-green trees annoyed them and so the trees were pulled up. The skating rink annoys them and they want to get rid of it. They can't pull up the rink without much inconvenience. If they can have it made small enough so there will not be any ice skating on it the kids will all go down to the pond. (What if a few do drown?) and the loss of patronage made a good reason for not putting the rink up in the future.

HERE AND THERE IN MAINE

The 59 year old Advent Christian church at Bridgton was destroyed by fire during the morning services last Sunday. Fire was discovered by parishioners who arrived late for the service. All furnishings except the pipe organ were saved. The loss was estimated at $5,000.

A section of the Curtis Corner-Leeds road near Pettengill's Corner about 60 feet long sank Friday and had increased to about 250 feet by Monday. About 5,000 yards of gravel, besides trees and other debris had been dumped into the depression without any apparent effect Monday night, and it was thought the road would have to be relocated. However on Tuesday, Geo. W. Dyke of Livermore Falls, who is supervising the road, was a little more optimistic. About 100 feet was filled Tuesday and 40 feet of it remained solid, so the crew will continue with the work.

More than $224,000 was spent in Maine during the past fiscal year for the protection of the forests from fire. Of this the national government contributed $54,732. Only eight States report a higher expenditure.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Park of South Paris observed their 52d wedding anniversary Nov. 24. Mr. Park has been registrar of probate for 40 years and trial justice and justice of the peace 20 years. Mrs. Park was a successful teacher for 20 years and is an artist, doing both water colors and oils.

The Hollingsworth & Whitney Co. paper mill at Madison, which has been closed since Aug. 1, reopened on a part time schedule Monday.

Thomas F. Kendall, 71, of Cumberland Center was killed Friday when his automobile was struck by the locomotive of a Maine Central railroad passenger train at Palmouth.

The order which the past summer cut two weeks' pay from State employees saved the State approximately $120,000 instead of $80,000 estimated at the time of the order.

A pet dog is given the credit for saving the lives of two families at Upper Gloucester Sunday morning when the homes of E. S. Gross and Arthur Lavigne were destroyed by fire. The members of the Gross household were asleep when the dog went to his master's bedroom and awakened Mr. Gross. He was sent away, and returned. This being unusual Mr. Gross investigated. The lower part of the house was in flames and the family was barely able to escape. Sparks from this building set fire to the Lavigne place and that also was destroyed.

The buildings of Caleb Morrill at North Paris were destroyed by fire last Thursday morning. The fire apparently started around the chimney. Help was called from the Norway fire department but the buildings were practically destroyed when help arrived. Nearly everything on the first floor was saved but nothing from the second floor. Mr. Morrill, who is nearly 80 years of age, has lived alone for a number of years.

A Christmas SUGGESTION

Here is an idea for Citizen readers who are puzzled over the gift problem. You know the Citizen. You have read it—from a few weeks up to nearly 40 years. It tells the story of the happenings around Bethel so well that a lot of you send the paper to a distant friend or relative as soon as you have read it each week, and if you don't the neighbors borrow it.

So, for a holiday present we suggest sending the Citizen to your interested friends, or the borrowing neighbor, and let them have what you already know they like. It will be a fresh reminder of the donor each week, and then you can keep your Citizens and have your local history at hand for convenient reference.

The price of a gift subscription is $2.00. For two gift subscriptions send to us $3.50, and $1.75 apiece for three or more gift subscriptions. We will send a gift announcement card to reach the recipient of your gift at Christmas time with their first copy of the Citizen.
